

Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering
	Winter Term 2023-2024	Date of Posting 8th January, 2024

Position Requirements:

We are looking for professional, ethical, responsible, reliable, committed, and punctual people who are fluent in English (spoken and written); who can communicate effectively (read aloud correctly and clearly); who are able to work in a stressful environment, handle difficult situations and resolve problems.

Must be able to work as part of a team or individually.

Prior experience invigilating exams at Concordia University is an asset.

Basic to moderate French (spoken) is an asset.

Current undergraduate students are not eligible for this position.

Must be available for Exam invigilation during the current 2023-2024 winter semester.

Description of job duties:

The Primary purpose of the exam invigilator is to ensure the integrity of the examination exercise as specified in Concordia University's Academic Code of Conduct.

The exam invigilator is the primary contact for students in the exam room and is responsible for administering all aspects of the examination. They are required to adhere to the instructions for each individual exam as presented by the professor and ensure that students understand and comply with those instructions.

Invigilators report instances of offences committed by students under the Academic code of conduct during an examination including: cheating; falsification of documents or other dishonest behavior; distribute and collect exam documents; monitor the class while the exam is in session; accompany students who need to leave the classroom for any reason once the exam is underway, including accompanying students to the restroom; act as the point of first contact for the students and faculty who may have a problem in the exam room and escalate issues as appropriate to the Supervisor.

The Invigilator will ensure that all exam-related paperwork and processes (such as incident reports) are completed during and by the end of each shift. They must ensure the security of examination documents.

The Exam Invigilator reports directly to the Supervisor.

Application Instructions:

All GCS graduate students can apply for invigilator positions through the online Teaching Assistant Application System (TAAS) link below, using their GCS username and password. To apply for invigilator, you indicate your availability (day and time) in the system.
